

UE carries the name of Aleksandër Xhuvani.

He is considered one of the most important contributors of Albanian national education in the first half of the 20th century.

Due to his contribution to the establishment and the development of the Albanian national education system, Prof. Dr. Aleksandër Xhuvani was also named as the Teacher of Albanian Teachers.

Today the UE is the university of tradition, science, and teacher training.

University of Elbasan "Aleksandër Xhuvani"

- Faculty of Educational Sciences
- Economics Faculty
- Faculty of Human Sciences
- Faculty of Natural Sciences
- Faculty of Technical Medical Sciences

The study programs

Bachelor (34)

Master of Science (18)

Professional Master (35)

Professional University Degree (8)

PhD Program (1)

UE numbers
12.000 students

The foundations of the University of Elbasan "Aleksandër Xhuvani" (UE) date back to 1909 where the normal school was established, the first in Albania, which prepared teachers for all the republic.

This school was later transformed into High Pedagogical Institute where in 1991 it received the status of the University.

The first faculty created, was the Faculty of Education, to promote and to move on with tradition, regarding the preparation and graduation of teachers.

UE has a commitment to providing the highest quality education to students so that they can become successful professionals in their chosen fields and develop positive influences in their communities. The University also has a global perspective with the full understanding that globalization is the reality of today. We believe that education is one of the tools in Albania's integration into the European Union, and thus quality education will help equip our students with the required expertise and know-how necessary for social and economic progress and development now in a future Albania in Europe

Accreditation

In 2020, the institution underwent the institutional reaccreditation process. This process was finalized with Decision no. 49 dated 27.11.2020. Accreditation resulted in the UE ranking in the list of the best universities in Albania.

University of Elbasan, based on the strategy of internationalization:

- Is part of university unions and associations.
- Has signed over 200 bilateral agreements with universities in Europe and beyond.
- There are over 50 active agreements on Erasmus+ mobility.
- Is a partner on 9 capacity-building projects in all study programs.
- Has signed three joint study programs that claim to start the academic year ahead.

The institution has clearly defined, in its institutional development strategy, the priorities of its cooperation policy. These priorities are reflected in the cooperation agreements with other national and international universities as well as local, national and international institutions.

Resizing student spaces.

Training of students in the professional aspect and exchange of best experiences.

Creating spaces where students can disclose and develop their talents will increase their motivation and academic performance as well as interaction with one another.

